A. No person or persons, organization, firm or corporation shall be permitted to loiter, congregate, park cars, or solicit for any purpose in or on any of the roads, driveways, docks or receiving areas of this Company since any of the foregoing acts and practices interfere with the proper and orderly conduct of the business of this company; nor shall any person, persons, organization, firm or corporation engage in any activity on the premises of this company which is not a part of the normal business activities carried on by this company and which disrupts or tends to disrupt proper and orderly conduct of the business of this company. Any person, organization, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this rule will be treated as a trespasser and dealt with accordingly.

B. No person, firm or corporation shall employ (either as full-time employee, part time employee or agent) in these yards anyone under 16 years of age; nor anyone who, on account of age, infirmity or other disability, is incapable of avoiding the natural hazards to life or limb which said employees or agents ordinarily and customarily are confronted with in performing their regular duties.

C. Unless otherwise directed in writing by the owner before delivery of the livestock, this Company deems the person, firm or corporation to whom or in whose care livestock is consigned or weighed to be the agent of the owner for all purposes.

D. No person, firm or corporation shall bring into or use within or upon these yards any feed or bedding, except such as is obtained from the Oklahoma National Stock Yards Company, the charges fixed in Section 2.

E. The buying or selling of any specie of livestock on the premises of the Oklahoma National Stock Yards Company is prohibited until such livestock is formally received at the unloading chutes by the Oklahoma National Stock Yards Company and has been delivered to sales pens. Any violation by any owner, agent or purchaser of livestock of the foregoing regulation shall be deemed sufficient cause to deny said owner, agent, or purchaser of said livestock the privilege of using the facilities of this Company for the handling of sale thereof.

F. Any market agency or dealer who contributes to the evasion or violation of this regulation, by the payment of drafts, or otherwise providing the means to cover the purchase of livestock upon the premises of the Oklahoma National Stock Yards, prior to formal receipt thereof, as above provided, may be denied the privilege of using the facilities of said Company for the handling or sale of all livestock so purchase.

G. Owners and shippers who desire to sell their own livestock will be provided with pens and given service equal to that furnished for livestock handled in these yards through any other agency, and at the same rates for feed and services. The company may require payment of all yardages, freight, fees and other charges in advance of delivery of any livestock handled in this manner, unless bond is furnished as provided in Rule H. All livestock purchased by any person, firm or corporation will be locked up after being weighed and will be delivered only on satisfactory authorization furnished by the selling agency.

H. This Company will not be responsible for loss or damage to any livestock not in its exclusive control and custody, nor to or by any vicious or unmanageable animals. Notices of all claims for shortages, injuries, mixing, weighing, or other damages must be given within reasonable time after the alleged cause for claim arises.

I. No person, firm or corporation shall engage in the livestock commission business of dealing in livestock in these yards, until such person, firm or corporation has provided a bond made in favor of this Company, by a responsible surety company duly authorized to transact business in Oklahoma. This bond must guarantee the payment of all accounts, (consisting of all freight charges, all feed and yardage charges and any other charges) that may occur in the handling of livestock in these yards, also in consequence of the mixing or turning out of wrong livestock and shall be in such amount as may be considered necessary by this Company, but in no event to be less than the sum of $5,000.00.

J. Only such signs may be displayed in these yards as have been approved by the management.

K. This Company reserves the right to exclude from these yards livestock known or suspected of being affected or having been exposed to infectious or communicable diseases.

L. This Company only holds itself out to furnish reasonable facilities to take care of the business coming to this market and it will not provide facilities to take care of a limited number of market agencies and dealers; therefore, this Company reserves the right to refuse to furnish facilities to additional market agencies and dealers beyond what it considers a reasonable number.

M. All pens, chutes and alleys are and shall remain the property of this company. The management of this company may assign to corporations, firms, or individuals on this market, certain pens to be used by them only for the purpose of receiving, selling or holding livestock and performing necessary and usual corollary operations and services, subject at all times to this Company's right to modify, change or revoke any such assignments.

N. No person, firm or corporation, by itself or its employees, shall indulge in any unfair, dishonest, or fraudulent practice or destroy, deface or abuse the property of this Company, or unlawfully tamper with locks or unlock any gates or door of pens or buildings, or refuse to obey or violate warnings and/or notices of this Company. Any person, firm or corporation, by itself or employees, violating or disregarding any of these rules and regulations may be denied the privileges of these yards, treated as a trespasser and dealt with accordingly.

O. As a condition precedent to doing business at this Stock Yards each commission firm, dealer, order buyer, individual or other operator or market agency guarantees, and assumes full liability and responsibility for, the title to all animals sold or handled by it or him.

P. This Company does not undertake to unload or load livestock received by, or shipped out in, trucks or other motor vehicles, and will assume no responsibility for loss, damage or injury to, by, or in connection with, livestock handled in the course of unloading from or loading into trucks or other motor vehicles.

Q. No dealer, trader or other person, firm or corporation will be allowed to offer for sale or to sell or to attempt to sell or solicit bids on any re-sale livestock in any pens or alleys assigned to commission firms or in any part of division of the Yards used for and set aside for handling and sale of "Fresh" livestock being sold for the first time, unless such livestock has been regularly turned over to some commission firm for consigned resale by and through said commission firm at regular prevailing charges as set out in this Tariff.
